PARENT/COACH RELATIONSHIP

Parenting and coaching are both extremely difficult vocations. By establishing an understanding of each position, we are better able to accept the actions of each other & provide greater benefit to the student-athletes of East Clinton Schools. As parents, when your student-athlete becomes involved in our athletic program, you have a right to understand what expectations are placed on your child. This begins with clear communication from the head coach of your athlete's team.

FORMS OF COMMUNICATION YOU SHOULD EXPECT FROM THE COACH

1. Philosophy of the coach and program.
2. Expectations the coach has for your athlete & the team.
3. Location & times of all practices & contests.
4. Team requirements, i.e. forms, fees, special equipment, off-season expectations.
5. Procedures that will be taken if your athlete is injured during a practice or contest.
6. Discipline that may result in the denial of your athlete's participation.

FORMS OF COMMUNICATION COACHES EXPECT FROM PARENTS

1. Concerns expressed directly to the coach.
2. Notification of any schedule conflicts well in advance.
3. Specific concerns regarding the coach's philosophy and/or expectations.

As your student-athlete becomes involved in the athletic programs of East Clinton Schools, they will experience some of the most rewarding moments of their lives. It is important to understand that there may also be times when your athlete is faced with adversity. At these times, discussion with the coach is encouraged, whether the adversity is athletic or personal reasons.

APPROPRIATE CONCERNS TO DISCUSS WITH COACHES

1. The treatment of your athlete, mentally & physically.
2. Ways to help your athlete improve their fundamental skills.
3. Concerns about your athlete's behavior.
4. College scholarship opportunities or options.

It is extremely difficult to accept your athlete not playing as much as you may hope or think. Coaches are professionals who must place the interests of the team as a whole over the interests the individual. When making decisions, our coaches must decide what they believe is best for the team. As you can see from the list above, there are certain issues that can be and should be discussed with your athlete's coach. Other issues, such as those listed below, must be left to the discretion of the coach and their staff.

ISSUES NOT APPROPRIATE TO DISCUSS WITH COACHES

1. Playing time.
2. Team strategy.
3. Play calling.
4. Other student-athletes.

There are situations that may require a conference between the coach and the parent. These meetings are to be encouraged. It is important that both the coach and the parent have a clear understanding of the other's position regarding the situation. When these conferences are necessary, the following procedure should be followed AT ALL TIMES to help promote an agreed resolution to the situation.

IF YOU HAVE AN ISSUE TO DISCUSS WITH A COACH PLEASE FOLLOW THIS PROCEDURE:

1. Call the school to set up an appointment. The school number is: (937) 584-7450
2. If the coach cannot be reached, please leave a message for the coach with the Athletic Director.
3. PLEASE do not attempt to confront a coach the day of a contest or directly before or after practice. These can be emotional times for both the parent and the coach. Meetings of this nature generally do not promote an agreeable resolution.

THE NEXT STEP

WHAT ARE THE RIGHTS OF THE PARENT IF THE MEETING WITH THE COACH DID NOT PROVIDE A SATISFACTORY RESOLUTION?

1. Call the school and set up an appointment with the Athletic Director to discuss the situation.
2. At this meeting, the appropriate next step can be determined.

Research indicates that a student involved in extra-curricular activities has a greater chance of success during adulthood; therefore, these programs have been established by the East Clinton School District. Many of the character traits required to be a successful participant in athletics are exactly the same traits of those that will promote a successful life after high school. We hope the information provided within this pamphlet helps to make both your athlete's and your experience with the East Clinton School Athletic Program less stressful and more enjoyable.
